

LOCAL AND OTHERWISE.

Western mail continues to arrive irregularly yet.

For family liquors go to Sam E. Wertheimer.

Sam E. Wertheimer left for Salt Lake Monday, to be absent a couple of weeks.

Hon. Geo. S. Sawyer spent several days at Ferguson this week looking over the District.

John Cook, of Salt Lake, father of our townsman John R. Cook, came in Friday for a short visit.

A ten days western mail reached us Thursday night, and furnished papers enough for a month's reading.

Despite the prevailing dull times the approaching campaign may be a hotly contested one. It will be lengthy at any rate.

A light but pleasant shower of rain fell last Sunday afternoon in town; about the best waterfall we have had since the season set in.

At Milford on the 19th. inst. a lad nine years old was run over by a hand car loaded with water barrels, and was injured so that his recovery is doubtful.

The majority of the Piochers at San Francisco are still tied up. They are not likely to attempt a move eastward until trains move with regularity and safety.

A. S. Thompson has just received a carload of Quilt Lake Beer, also assorted Soda and Sarsaparilla, which he is offering at reasonable figures and delivered free to any part of town.

Geo. Warren expects a new half concord coach for use on his Delamar route, as soon as the strike lets up for good. It is one of Henderson & Co's best, of Stockton, Calif., and will be capable of good service.

L. Livingston & Co., of San Francisco, have entered suit in the District Court against J. J. Manning and John E. Ferguson on an unpaid draft or bill of exchange given last December for $350.

For a greater part of last Sunday no water found its way to the upper tank of the Water Co., due to a bad break in the main pipe between the springs and town. It was repaired on Sunday and Monday.

Chas. Lytle, John and Robt. Hammond, James and George Nesbitt, have brought suit in the District Court against Joseph Comeril, to restrain him from using or interfering with the water flowing from Spring Valley into Eagle Valley.

The DeLamar stage route now runs by way of Panaca and Meadow Valley Wash, leaving the Wash at Culverwell's ranch. The distance from town here is about five miles greater than by way of Bennett and Cliff Springs, but the road is easier, and the accommodations better generally.

The personal property levied on by the Sheriff in proceedings between John Roeder and Bartholomew Corrigat, was sold by the Sheriff on Monday, in front of the court house, Roeder being the purchaser, and bidding the property in at fifty dollars.

The Milford correspondence of the Beaver Utopian of the 20th says: It is reported by good authority that a quiet wedding took place Friday night, the principals being Ed. Scullard (Slim) and Jane Thompson, who recently procured a divorce from her first husband, Thos. Singleton.

The prevailing sentiment of the National press with regard to U. S. troops being called out to protect railroad property and to move trains, is that if governmental interference is necessary at all, better take steps to make it perpetual and let the general government operate the roads for all time.

The familiar toot of the Raymond whistle for a few days this week served as a reminder of old times. Steam was raised to facilitate examining the shaft. The pump compartment is in bad order through rotten timbers and caving ground, and it is estimated that it will cost a large amount of money to put the shaft in anything like a secure condition.

Here in Lincoln county we get bit ripples from the waves of the great strike. The actual suffering, hardship and fear experienced in more central localities are strange to us. Some idea of how the strike has operated at various places throughout the state however, may be gleaned from the "Strike Notes" in this issue, taken from belated state exchanges.

An effort to have the mail route now terminating at Lake Valley, extended some forty-five miles farther north to Osceola, to connect with the route from Ely to Frisco, Utah, is being made. Petition was circulated here on Monday and will be taken from here to White Pine County, where the opening of the route is as much desired as at this point, as it will place Lincoln and White Pine counties in direct communication with each other, something we have not enjoyed for a year or two.

Haying in Meadow Valley Wash is about over. The crop is only average.

The meeting of the Silver Party will take place at the Court House next Monday evening. See the call in another column.

The San Francisco Courier is dead. The paper was run at a loss for some years and all efforts to resuscitate it have been unavailing.

The People's Party County Central Committee recognize the desirability of securing a state as well as a National standing, especially for the approaching campaign, and will take steps to effect one if possible.

E. L. Gothe and P. Sheahan, who are arranging to work over the dump of tailings from the dry concentrators at the old summit smelter, by the leaching process, will use a small Pelton wheel for pumping and other purposes.

Tessie Boyd, a woman of the town, died yesterday, July 18th., from the effect of an overdose of opium. It is supposed the dose with suicidal intent, and in a fit of despondency of which she has been subject of late.—Reno Journal.

Approving the Journal.—"As I look into your face, dear, said young Wumpung. "I can see the whole record of the present Congress." "Tell me its features", said his steady girl. "Ayes, noes, lip, chin, cheek," and the usual executive session followed.

J. Eisenman wishes to call the attention of those desiring to build, to the fact that he has just received a carload of glazed window sash, all sizes; also panel, sash and screen doors, together with white lead, paints, oils and nails, which will be sold cheaper than ever, but only for cash.

The meeting at the court house to arrange for electing delegates to the Silver Party State Convention will take place next Monday evening. An impression prevailed pretty generally that last Monday was the day fixed, but a reference to the published notice shows otherwise. The movement meets with a good response; the sentiment that this is the off year in politics, and that matters are pretty much at sixes and sevens, determining to amalgamate.

Lieutenant Governor Poujade on the Strike.

"The White Ribbon" is the name of a diminutive sheet, of recent birth, and published daily at Carson. The first number which has found its way into our office contains the following interview had with Lieutenant Governor Poujade, on the strike as viewed in Europe:

"The European Press views the strike with European eyes, which of necessity divide all bodies of men into classes of masters who rule, and servants who are ruled. We are all masters. We are masters of everything,—except, perhaps, ourselves. Whether we are also masters of ourselves may be indicated by the outcome of the present situation. The American people are, indeed undergoing a serious trial, made dangerous through the debaucheries of legislation by wealth and disregard of law by officials on one side, and the perpetual struggle against all law and order by anarchists on the other.

"I believe the American people will be strong enough and true enough to themselves to survive the attacks of both.

"Yes, there is still an American people; we are not yet overcome by the bearers of the doctrine of anarchy that the old spirit of liberty is dead. We, and those from whom we derive our methods of government, have followed the ways of law and order for four hundred years, that we know of,—followed them to whatever extremes became necessary;—and we are not going to desert them now; for well we know that without law there can be no liberty;—that disorder necessarily brings tyranny. None can understand this better than the thinking workmen who belong to labor unions. They are not anarchists nor rioters, nor destroyers of the property by means of which they earn their bread."

"What do you think will be the result, better or worse conditions?" asked the reporter.

"No man can foretell, but I believe it will be good, in the end, even though no present advance be made, if it shall awaken all to duty. The people all have votes. If they only will use them intelligently, and be honest to themselves, the whole matter is in their own hands.

"Perhaps, by attention having been called to the fact that the great necessities of transportation cannot be fulfilled by private corporations the people may take it upon themselves to do their own carrying. It is of too much importance to be left to the caprice of an individual, or any number of individuals smaller than the whole people."

The Silver Party.

The Silver Party two years ago elected nearly one hundred of the present county officers throughout the state and was then effectively organized in every county but Lincoln, where the People's Party was supposed to be identical with it. The Silver Party is again in the field, with the same effective organization, and will nominate a full ticket of state and other officers on the 4th. of next September. The Silver Party carried the State at the last election by an overwhelming majority and celebrated the event at Carson immediately after the election returns were known. It was then that Congressman Newlands, one of the leaders of the new party, and therefore a Republican said: "The Republican party whose main purpose seemed to be to protect Eastern manufacturers, thought that the memories of the war and sentimental considerations would hold the western states loyal to its organization. It neglected western interests; it was in favor of closing our silver mines and stopping the manufacture of money with a view to increasing the value of the accumulated stock of money in the east. The Silver Party of Nevada, whose overwhelming victory we now celebrate, should hold the organization intact, its forces undiminished, until free coinage restores our predominant industry. To falter now would be to risk the loss of all we have gained."

The Party has not lost, but on the contrary has gained in strength and it is the party which will carry the state again at the coming election.

A TRIPLE MURDER NEAR LOVELOCK.

LOCK.

Lovelock (Nev.) July 13.—A triple murder tragedy occurred last night at 8 o'clock about twenty miles from here.

Robert Logan and wife of Cottonwood quarreled and divorce proceedings were instituted by the woman. Other men had written letters to her and Logan often threatened to kill some of her male friends.

A few days ago the stage left for Cottonwood and Mrs. Logan was a passenger and Dan Lovelock driver. While at Cottonwood, Logan who slept in the same house, made a night attack on Lovelock while the latter was asleep and cut a deep gash in his head.

Lovelock was unable to return here the next day, and Mrs. Logan drove the stage back and returned with it to Cottonwood Wednesday to bring the wounded Lovelock to town.

She had a passenger out, Fred Sullivan. On the return trip Mrs. Logan drove.

Dan Lovelock, very weak, rode on the front seat and Sullivan inside. At dusk Logan armed with a rifle rode up on a horse and demanded that Mrs. Logan come with him. She refused saying that she was coming to town, and he said that he would come too.

About 8 o'clock as the stage was ascending a slight incline, a shot was heard and Sullivan in the back seat fell forward with a bullet through the heart.

There was another shot, and Lovelock fell into Mrs. Logan's lap. Logan then rode up to the stage, jumped in, wheeled the horse and declared that he would throw the two men in a deep well five miles from the scene of the tragedy, cut up the woman and send her after them.

She persuaded him to water the horses. While stooping to get a bucket under the wagon she took a pistol from Lovelock's pocket, and when Logan arose shot him. He cried for mercy, but she shot again, and he fell behind the stage dead. She sent one more bullet into his body.

She threw the bodies of Sullivan and Lovelock in the wagon and covered them. She took Logan's horse, changed the saddle to a stage animal, pulled the harness and halters from the other horses and turned them loose. She rode to Lovelock and gave herself up to the officers at 1 o'clock in the morning, told her story and teams were sent to the scene. The bodies were brought here today.

Lovelock and Sullivan were shot in the back through the heart. Sullivan was an entirely disinterested party. Lovelock was the stage proprietor, and as far as known there was no intimacy between him and the woman.

Before the woman shot Logan he had declared his intention of killing two other male friends of hers. Lovelock and Sullivan were both young men well and favorably known here.

The people here denounce Logan as a coward, and praise Mrs. Logan's courage. She is a small woman and about twenty-six years old. The excitement is great.

The breaks in the water main between town and the springs proved more serious than at first supposed and before completely repaired and water got in again, four breaks were mended. The water supply will be husbanded for a time so the tanks can fill up.

The People's Party County Central Committee is charged with wanting to curtail all the county officers this fall in calling its county convention so early, earlier by nearly two months than formerly. The organizers of the County Silver Party are said to be a lot of disgruntled politicians who want to have a hand in county matters also. The Republican State leaders are out with a circular letter stating why the old party should continue to run the state government, and want organizations maintained in every county. The Democrats and Prohibitionists are still to be heard from. Let them come and assist in making things lively.

PERMANENCE OF KENNEDY.

Her Mines the Most Promising in the Mining West.

If one prospect in every ten of the three hundred or more located, prove to be mines, Kennedy will be the center of the largest and richest mineral belt in the United States. Claims have been located a distance of five miles north and three miles south of here, and without an exception, the more work performed the bigger the vein and richer the ore, which fact is remarkable and unmet with before in mining. The red oxide of the surface becomes a sulphuret at the water level and the line of demarkation is pronounced by a lower grade of metal, but twenty feet below, the ore is richest, and the deepest workings in the camp, which is mine No 1 in tunnel No 3, Imperial mine, down 175 feet, show a strong vein of $60 rock. With pride we compare the Imperial with the famous Idaho mine of Grass Valley that made the Coleman millionaires. The vein in the Idaho averaged a foot and assayed $12 a ton. The Imperial vein has been opened for 3000 feet through Imperial and Kearsarge ground, exposing a continuous ore body from a foot to six feet in thickness and assaying from $15 to $300 per ton. But to avoid such generalities proving misleading, it must be borne in mind that the Idaho ore was perfect, free-milling rock while the ore of Kennedy contains about 60 per cent. of free gold.

Special mention is made of the Imperial because it is the best developed mine in the camp, though with work there is every reason to look for many Imperials.—New Era.

County politics are causing much talk. Each party seems to think the other wants to get a corner on all the county offices but both of them are likely to be mistaken, for the best man in each case is liable to get away with the baggage no matter what political faction pushes him forward.

The Artesian well is down about 150 feet. Progress so far has been slow through faulting to get in the casing for the well. This is of iron, three-eighths thick by eight inches in diameter and forms quite an item for freight from Milford. With things running fairly well a wagon load a day will be needed to keep pace with the well. A cable for the well is enroute from Milford.

The Delamar Company is not relying altogether on the artesian well in progress in the valley, for a water supply. The Zimmerman well in Cedar Wash is being pushed down and there is already a good water supply there. The Baker and Schafer well on the same belt is running now in the dry season, about an inch of water, first-class in quality too, and the general belief is that Cedar Wash will furnish the best water territory hereabouts.
